THE MAN HE USED TO BE is the funniest stage plays since Madea. It is a soul stirring comedy, drama and inspirational musical that drives home the message that families really need to come together, that men need to stand up and take care of our families, and that families that pray together stay together. This inspirational musical drama focuses on the lives of two broken homes, their struggles and their redemption through the awesome power of God.

THE MAN HE USED TO BE is a clean, family oriented production, starring some of today's most talented artists. The Hilarious TRENT ROBERTS - BET comedian- as "Antwan" (The Charlotte Post said he is the funniest comedian/actor since Madea) R&B Recording artist/actor Christopher Williams of the movie "New Jack City" R&B/gospel recording with the new #1 selling gospel album in the Country "The Book of David: Vol. 1 The Transition" recording artist/actor Dave Hollister. Sean Levert - R&B recording artist of the Levert Family, gospel recording artist Terri Britton Brown R&B recording artist Monifah, and R&B recording artist Dave Tolliver of "Men at Large." At the Atlanta, GA

Sunday November 26th, 2006 at 3:00pm & 7:00pm there will be special guest star appearances by actor/R&B artist Tyrese from movies "Baby Boy" and "Waist Deep."
