CHINO HILLS, Calif. - Jan. 23, 2007 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) -- Jixa LLC announces the release of Prapta.com, a growing database that allows users to share personal life experiences while earning points. Experiences ranging from eating an apple to hiking the Tyrolean Alps will inspire you to share your life experiences and set future goals.

"Our experience list currently contains more than half a million different human experiences, and that number grows daily as users add their own personal experiences," says co-founder Jason Lascurain.

More than just a website for friends and a place for a personal webpage, Prapta.com is a user-friendly site that allows users to store anecdotal accounts of personal life experiences while earning Life Points(TM). How will your personal accounts measure up against other's experiences? How many points will you earn? How will you rank against other website users?
